CANOPY RIVER

For those of you who really take pleasure in nature, Sierra Madre Canopy Tours are definitely. Canopy Tours involve sliding from one high level forest platform to another along a steel cable suspended up to 200 hundred meters above the Cuale River. Originally tree top canopy slides were designed to allow biologists access to mysterious forest canopies in order to study the hard to get at plant that lives high up the trees. The tour consists of 12 platforms and slides that wind down through an unspoiled forest-ed valley and ancient rocky gorge.

Two trained guides will accompany each group of ten persons for the duration of the tour and ensure the safety of the tourists while pointing out any interesting plants, birds or animals along the way. Your Mexian canopy tour will began with a safety briefing. Your guides will demonstrate how to slide on the cables and will inform you of any safety procedures that need to be adhered to on the tour.

Thereafter you will be equipped with a full body harness, pulley, climbing equipment and safety helmet. From the start, an entire new world unveils itself as one as you slide gently through the forest.
